

Tania Evans Media

journalism, photojournalism, event photography, web

November 13, 2009 November 13, 2009

Services:

photo galleries:

landscape

horses

architecture

people

word services:

journalism

photojournalism

print promotion

event photography

website samples

client list

special needs

contact

partnerships

Media Services

Our architectural photo services make a great starting point for your real estate brochure or advertisements for print and web.

Writing, research and design services. We research and write articles for trade journals, newspapers and magazines, for blogs, broadcast interviews, online ads and online news. We produce text for brochures, e-marketing, ad books and cds. We market events. We can organize a campaign and manage your image over time in a promotional web program.

We provide event coverage through Riverbend Photo.com with an emphasis on horse sports around the world.

Purpose

Ours media services make a great starting point for your website and your photographic needs. We can jumpstart you into the world of the web, update your old text, provide current, flattering photos showing your products in their best light - and do it all quickly and within your budget.

Landscapes

can be an integral, positive part of your company or residence image.

Landscape can finish the ambience of a space. Besides doing custom photos, we offer limited edition and stock photos

Animal portraits are a great love of ours, especially horses, dogs and cats. With a lifetime of horse experience, we know there are many ways to shoot the perfect animal portrait. We try to find what appeals to you, what would make a good photo for your wall. We look for the most comprehensive and honest shot for the appraisal and we set up the most supportive shot for the magazine article.

We provide people portraits, indoor/outdoor and formal/informal. With over 30 years of photo experience and outstanding equipment, we capture you in the best light.